A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

The success and perhaps the existence of political liberty depends upon the courage and personal responsibility of the average citizen. On the campus of Tulane it is our duty to maintain an intense culture of these qualities and make instinctive their practice and philosophy. Each one of us, whether in uniform, "essential" occupation, during wartime or during peacetime, must discharge obligations correlative to the privileges of democratic citizenship. The war work Tulane can do and has undertaken is more than may be listed here, but her founders could take pride in her accomplishments and her sons find inspiration to carry on. Tulane's greatest obligation, however, made doubly imperative today, will always be to prepare students for broad understanding and devoted citizenship. The strength of our foes lies in their love of country to a degree seldom equalled. We who fight for our country and even for others too must emulate their devotion and exceed their sacrifice. But we can have no education for civilians and education for militia—each citizen must be a good soldier, each soldier an intelligent citizen. For what each of us receives from democracy we must be prepared to help in the defense of it. As this yearbook brings back memories of these extraordinary campus days, I hope it will renew and nourish your determination to live intelligently and courageously in the world which you shall help to make free.

NU SIGMA NU

Founded in 1882 at the University of Michigan, Beta Iota Chapter of Tulane has admirably continued to carry on the old Nu Sigma Nu tradition of feuding with Phi Chi. This pastime seems to be their one interest during formal meetings and otherwise. Said meetings are also the scene of much important business, the topic of conversation ranging from the last party given to the next one scheduled. Martin Harthcock waves the gavel in this organization, and reminds Charles Prosser, secretary, to send out notices of monthly meetings. Leonard Knapp takes over when the president is indisposed and Karr Hinton, alias "Hitler," sees to it that dues are paid and that no one but his personal friends raid the ice box. The Nu Sigs' chief claims to fame are their fancy cabaret parties, with singing in the "green room" and preaching by Deacon Palfrey, the half-painted house that looks much better now, according to the members, than it did unpainted, the Laurens twins' Model A convertible and their four (or more) married members. The mansion at 5018 St. Charles Ave. is the scene of many informal gatherings, the likes of which can never be equaled by the Phi Chi's.

PHI CHI

Known as the politicians of Tulane Med. School, the Phi Chis have crashed forth this year with a galaxy of class offices. This landslide was, of course, premeditated; in fact, for years now, the Phi Chis have added prodigiously to their chapter roll, with the hope of some day getting ahead. The only drawback to their system of rushing and bidding, however, is that it is rather hard remembering who is, and who is not a "good brother." Several ingenious members have gravely considered giving a post rush-week party every year for the purpose of introducing the pledges to the actives. Gordon Nix is president of this convention, and Wyman Sloan relieves him on occasions. George Prather takes minutes, and Sparky Wyatt collects large enough fees each month from all members to start a new branch of the First National Bank. Their meetings are also concerned with "discussions" of the Nu Sigs, and plans for future parties—open only to Phi Chis. RUMOR has it that their parties are "mighty fine." Outstanding members include Henry Yonge, president of the sophomore class; Keller Griffith, president of the Med. School student body; and Broox Garrett, president of the senior class. Phi Chi was founded at the University of Vermont in 1889. Omicron Chapter was established at Tulane in 1903.

A ATHLETICS

Yea! Greenies!

HORACE C. RENEGAR

WAR TIME SPORTS AT TULANE

Sports of the past year were in general very successful. Although war naturally limited their scope, the Navy program added to their popularity and success. Travel difficulties interfered with the trips that are usually made, but this problem was solved by arranging games and meets with near-by schools and groups. In these contests Tulane came out on the top end of the score most of the time. As long as possible, war time sports will continue, and will lack none of the thrill of peace time activities.

"LITTLE MONK" SIMONS
Head Football Coach

Greatly responsible for the successful football season in 1943 are the coaches. Head Coach "Little Monk" Simons' hard work turned the team into a powerful eleven. He was aided by Assistant Coach Vernon Haynes. Since so many of the boys are Navy men, the service contributed Ensign Thomas O'Boyle and Chiefs Jack Stackpool and Walter Jurkiewicz to the coaching staff. In the midst of the season, with the death of Claude "Big Monk" Simons, the team and the school lost a trainer and friend of long standing. Despite this sad experience, the team came through with a very successful year.

THE FOOTBALL TEAM

FOOTBALL AT TULANE

Although pitted against six powerful opponents in 1943, the Green Wave ended the season with three victories and three losses. In the first game, with Memphis Air Tech, the Wave lost 41-7, but this defeat was followed by a score of 33-0 against the Rice Owls. The next week, Tulane played a thrilling game against S. M. U., which ended in a 12-6 victory. Opposed then by a fine Georgia Preflight eleven, the Greenies scored 13 points to Preflight's 14. Georgia Tech dealt the Green Wave a hard blow in a game ending 33-0. The concluding game of the year was a triumph—L. S. U. was overpowered by the spirited Tulane team, and a score of 27-0 was a good one to close a season of football for the Green Wave.

Tulane traveled to Houston for its twenty-seventh game with the Rice Owls. A 33-0 score in the Wave's favor proved the trip well worth while.

Stretch, Joel!—Georgia Tech.

In a very interesting and tough game with Southern Methodist's Mustangs, the Greenies chalked up a second victory, this time by a 12-6 score. A crowd of 22,000 saw this first meeting in history between Tulane and S. M. U. The Wave's scoring came in the first and last periods, and the Mustangs' in the last.

By a close and hard won score of 14-13 the Georgia Preflighters overcame Tulane in a game full of thrills and good football. Having just lost several key men, the Green Wave found it hard to hold back the strong opposing eleven. Although the Wave's yardage gained surpassed that of the Skycrackers, an extra point was the deciding factor. The feature of the game was the Wave's defensive play.

GEORGIA TECH

The Green Wave suffered its worst defeat of the season at the hands of a rough and ready Georgia Tech eleven—final score, 33 to 0. The powerful Yellow Jackets used all the strategy at their finger tips and marched to victory, despite a lively defensive on the part of the Greenies.

L. S. U.

Employing an extremely potent line and some fine backfield play, Tulane came through its annual tilt with L. S. U. bearing flying colors. All the scoring was done in the last two quarters. Forming a perfect conclusion to any year of Tulane football, the L. S. U.-Tulane game of 1943 gave witness to the strength of a well-trained Greenie eleven. 27-0 was the final score.

T R A C K

Captained by Bill McLane, coached by Mr. Forrest "Fritz" Oakes, and managed by Bill Witcher, the Greenie track team enjoyed a happy year. They ended the season winning two out of three meets attended. The unsuccessful venture was an S. E. C. meet in Birmingham. The flying colors were the result of a triangular meet at Tuscaloosa, Alabama, and one with L. S. U. in New Orleans.

The

TENNIS TEAM

The Tulane Tennis Team, holding up precedence of former years, finished another successful season without the loss of a match. Led by Captain Earl Bartlett, the tennis team won four matches and tied one against formidable opponents. Opening the season on March 30 against the New Orleans Lawn Tennis Club, the Greenies were leading 3-0 when the matches had to be halted on account of rain. Next on the Greenies' list was the City Park Tennis Club which proved easy prey and was defeated 6-0. Then on April 3 were the matches with Texas, which proved to be the best of the season, ending in a 3-3 tie. For their next match the racqueteers traveled to Atlanta to meet the Georgia Tech team. The Greenies were leading 3-0 when the matches had to be called off on account of rain. The following week the team had an open date to prepare themselves for the round-robin meet the following week with Rice and the New Orleans Lawn Tennis Club. Tulane won this meet also, by defeating Rice 6-0 and the New Orleans Lawn Tennis Club 4-2. The final match of the season proved to be the most colorful, for Rollins appeared with a team composed of three girls and one boy. The number one player for Rollins was red-headed Pauline Betz, national women's champion of the United States. The team had little trouble, however, defeating them 6-0. Although there was no Southeastern Conference tournament this year, two members of the team, Bartlett and Anderson, proved their worth by competing in the National Inter-Collegiate Tournament held at Evanston, Ill. Bartlett received a number four seeding and advanced to the quarter-finals where he was upset by James Evert, fifth seeded player from Notre Dame. Anderson, likewise, advanced to the quarters where he was defeated by Francisco Segura, number one seeded player of the tourney, 6-3, 6-3. In doubles, Bartlett and Anderson advanced to the semi-finals before they were defeated. Lettermen for the past year in order of their rank on the team were: Bartlett, Anderson, Rufus Harris, Jr., Bob Chipley, and Jack Bremmerman.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

The current three-semester, twelve-month school year under which Tulane now operates has fostered a much broader and diversified intramural program. With the Navy's fullest cooperation the students have been offered participation in such sports as football, basketball, softball, tennis, handball, soccer, boxing, wrestling, etc. The governing body for all intramural activities is the Intramural Council. Headed by Theo Harvey the council is composed of the following members: William Owen, vice-president; John Oelkers, adviser; Arthur Foss, William Barnes, Henry Cabirac, Rufus Harris, Todd Reboul, Sidney Jones, Hubert Walker, John Smallpage, Robert Murphy, John McGraw, Toy Williamson, Hal Walker, Mac Brunet, Herman Bouse.

PAN-HELL ATHLETICS

Softball was the lead-off sport in Pan-Hell's new year-round program. Commencing shortly after the Navy "took over" on July 1, the tournament was concluded early in September. The Betas won the cup to take a 10-point lead for the 1943-44 Pan-Hell Cup, winning handily over the Sigma Chi's in the final game. Basketball came next, and with it 10 points for the K. A.'s, who defeated the Delta Sigs in the finals. Coming from behind in the second half, the K. A.'s completely outplayed the Delta Sigs to retain the basketball cup another year. Deke was the other semifinalist, succumbing to the faster, more experienced K. A. team in another stubborn contest.

NEWCOMB

The Newcomb Athletic Department has endeavored to offer a variety of sports in a year-round program. All students are required to take the prescribed athletic courses which continue through their Junior year. The intramural program arranges the girls into teams which compete in baseball, basketball, volley ball, and soccer. Trophies are awarded the winners in the individual tournaments, such as ping-pong, bowling, shuffleboard, archery, tennis, and badminton. Gym Night brings forth the winners in the various sports, both individual and team. The year comes to a close with the annual May Day Dance presented by the Juniors to the graduating class.

THE TULANE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

RICHARD O. BAUMBACH
President

The Tulane Alumni Association is a national organization which has become a salient factor in the progress of one of the South's oldest and greatest universities. Through it each alumnus is given an opportunity to serve and assist in the progress of the University. There are no membership dues. All graduates and former students of Tulane University are members of the association. During the past year the interests of the group have been devoted to those activities pertinent to the war effort. Active participation in the Coast Guard Volunteer Port Security Force and the Blood Donor Service has been urged upon all members. At present there are several thousand Tulane alumni in the armed services. Through "The Tulanian", alumni publication, they are informed of university affairs and of the activities of their classmates and friends. The alumni office maintains constant correspondence with Tulanians who write in for news. A memorial plaque has been set up in the Tulane Library in honor of those Tulanians who have made the supreme sacrifice in this war.

The TULANE HULLABALOO

JESSE McNEIL, JR.
Business Manager

This was a year of firsts for the "Hullabaloo," student newspaper. Among the precedents broken were: publishing the paper on a year-round basis; choosing a Newcomb girl for editor-in-chief; having co-associate editors; selecting a junior for Newcomb editor; putting out the paper with a military background; and inaugurating several new departments and columns. On July 1, 1943, the new and very green staff faced the nation-wide manpower shortage, which suddenly has come close to home and is most acute. Editor-in-Chief Calista Rault, Associate Editors Cora Levine and John McCarthy, Feature Editor Mary Geffs, Sports Editor Sidney Mazer, Newcomb Editor Robin Ahrens, and Society Editor Jackie Labry, however, managed to get the paper out every Friday, often to their own amazement. Among the new features that surprised, delighted, and intrigued the student body were: cartoons on Navy life by a mysterious Boga; amusing and meaningful poetry by V-12er Earl Morgan, Jr.; Downtown Doc, a column for and by the medics, and which confused us ignorant laymen; S. O. S., about the V-12's virtues and vices; and lots and lots of pictures to the chagrin of Business Manager Jesse McNeil. He and Circulation Manager Carl Schumacher controlled the financial and distribution side of the "Hulla." Besides these, there were always Newcomb Sophies and Tulane Macs adding to the general entertainment, welfare, and excitement around the not-too-tidy, and not-too-big office.

CALISTA RAULT
Editor-in-Chief

STUDENT CENTER COUNCIL

The Student Center Council is one of the busiest organizations on the campus. Under the direction of Mrs. Morphy and Mrs. Dunwody, it has made the Student Center practically home to the V-12 students. In addition to the Friday afternoon dances to the tune of an orchestra, the record machines were continually supplied with the latest numbers. Bridge seems to have been one of the most popular entertainments, and the tournaments were very successful. Officers for the past year were: Bob Murphy, president; Cora Levine, vice-president; Betty Morphy, secretary and treasurer. Members were: Ann Bonham, Tim Crain, Gordon Ewin, Connie Faust, Jean Flower, Bill Heausler, Jackie Labry, John McCarthy, Jimmy McConnell, Calista Rault.

The

TULANE THEATRE

DR. MONROE LIPPMAN

The Tulane University Theatre completed its sixth season under Dr. Monroe Lippman with Kaufman and Hart's popular "You Can't Take It With You". This year the seventh season was opened with "Androcles and the Lion", a satiric and always timely play by George Bernard Shaw. Following the successful collaboration of last season, the theatre again cooperated with the Tulane-Newcomb choral groups in the production of the "Yeoman of the Guard". William Saroyan's "Razzle Dazzle", consisting of three short plays, "Hello, Out There", "People With Light Coming Out of Them", and "Radio Play", was presented next to the campus. The fourth production of the year has not been announced at the time of this writing. This year, following their policy of the past, the theatre has entertained 100 service men at each performance.

The

TULANE BAND

TOM HARLEE
Director

Suffering the ill effects of the war as much as any other organization, the band had to work hard to overcome the difficulties it encountered. Since the old band room is now a dormitory, a new practice hall had to be constructed in the stadium. Then it was only with difficulty that enough band members were found to fill it, because of Naval restrictions and the activity caused by Tulane's streamlined program. However, the group, directed by Mr. T. S. Harlee, participated in activities including broadcasting on a nation-wide scale and added spirit to pep meetings. As a valuable sideline several members organized an all-Navy swing band, which achieved great popularity.

L A G N I A P P E S

The Lagniappes in its third year of existence surpassed even the first two in fulfilling the purpose for which the organization was intended: the promotion of school dances. Under the resourceful leadership of Eddie Martin, more parties were given than ever before, most of them for the benefit of the V-12 boys. In addition to the outside orchestras that played for some of the dances, the excellent Navy band was at many of the hops to keep the "cats in the groove." Here's hoping next year's dances will be as successful as the ones this season.

Oh! What you said!

TULANE GLEE CLUB

The Tulane Glee Club is composed of fifty members who, during the past year, presented programs designed to make the leisure hours of the V-12 boys worthwhile. The members participated as a group in the "Yeomen of the Guard," the Festival Choir, and in the annual Choral Festival Concert, as well as giving their yearly formal concert. The club is interested in promoting community singing on the campus at meetings of the Student Body. Officers for this year have been: Aubrey Moore, president; Gordon Heffron, vice-president; Donald Wellford, secretary.

NEWCOMB GLEE CLUB

The Newcomb Glee Club is composed of 180 girls whose only prerequisites for membership are love for and interest in singing, and attendance at rehearsals. Each year the girls sing for the Christmas Memorial Service, present at least one formal concert, and act as the nucleus in a concert with the large Festival Choir. The officers for the past year were Peggie Baker, president, and Eleanor Kidd, vice-president and secretary.

THE OPERETTA

One of the busiest organizations on the campus this past year was the Student Opera Group. Its first production of the season was the "Yeoman of the Guard," the sixteenth Gilbert and Sullivan operetta to be given by the group. This particular selection, however, presented in cooperation with the Tulane University Theatre, was performed for the first time in New Orleans. Dr. Maxwell, Director of the School of Music, acted as artistic director, while Maynard Klein acted as general director. Later in the year, the group, under the same direction, presented "Orpheus," by Gluck, a classic opera based on a Greek mythological story. The A Capella Choir carried the burden of the performance, and the dances were arranged by Miss Frances Bush and the Newcomb Dance Club.

A CAPELLA CHOIR

Under the direction of Mr. Maynard Klein, the A Capella Choir is composed of a select group of fifty singers chosen from the students, faculty, and alumni of Tulane and Newcomb. This honorary group is made up of the best voices to be found by audition. This organization, which confines itself to the more difficult and unusual choral masterpieces, enjoys a national reputation. It has appeared on programs for the Music Education National Conference and, in addition, has broadcast over several national radio hook-ups. The president for the past year was June Rose Roepe.

THE ELIZABETHANS

Y.M.C.A.

The "Y" is non-sectarian, and participation in its activities is open to every student in the University. It is governed by student officers and an appointed cabinet. The program of the "Y" consists of lectures by prominent speakers on topics of interest to all students, open forums on vital subjects, and social functions. The Easter Sunrise Service, sponsored annually by the Tulane Y. M. C. A. and the Newcomb Y. W. C. A., has a definite place in the religious life of New Orleans. The "Y" cooperates with all organizations and agencies that will aid the student in living more richly and fully, both in the future and while he is at the University.

Any member of Newcomb College is eligible for membership in the Y. W. C. A. Meetings are held twice monthly, one a business meeting and one recreational or social service meeting. Some of the most interesting meetings have been those to which members of the Tulane "Y" were invited. Topics of common interest were discussed in open forum. The "Y" plays an important role in Freshman Orientation Week as well as in other activities throughout the year. The officers this year were: Jerry Liddell, president; Elaine McFaul, vice-president; Betty Vorbusch, secretary; Mary Hom, treasurer.

NEWCOMB ATHLETIC COUNCIL

Four of the members accomplish a difficult feat.

Some of the more accomplished members practice for May Day.

The students of Newcomb have access to a well-equipped physical education department which offers various sports for each season of the year. All girls are required to take the required gym course, which is terminated by Junior dance in the third year. Those girls taking Junior dance participate in the annual May Day Pageant, given in honor of the graduating class. There is an intramural tournament for each major sport, including basketball, volley ball, soccer, tennis, badminton, ping-pong, bowling, shuffleboard, horseshoes, and archery. Each girl is eligible to join a team, but must play in one practice game before participating in an intramural competition game. The athletic council is in charge of the intramural program, and also manages the individual sports. Awards are given in the last week of school to girls who have either won the individual tournaments or have adequate points for a gym award.

ALPHA SIGMA SIGMA

A senior honorary society, Alpha Sigma Sigma was organized at Newcomb in 1916 for the purpose of promoting school spirit and loyalty among the Newcomb students. Members of the faculty are Mildred Christian, Adele Drouet, Clara Landry, and Rena Wilson. Each spring, those juniors who have exceptional qualities of leadership, citizenship and character are elected to membership. At the beginning of each school year Alpha Sigma Sigma participates in the freshman orientation program, and late in the year it organizes the freshman handbook classes for instruction in the policies of the Newcomb Student Government Association. Also the president of Alpha Sigma Sigma holds the freshman class meetings for the first quarter until they elect their own president. The 1943-44 president of the society was Alma Hammett.

The purpose of the Jennie C. Nixon Debate Club is to promote student interest in public speaking. The activities consist of debates and floor discussions held in the bi-monthly meetings. Prize debates and inter-collegiate contests are held throughout the year. The club also takes part in the annual student-faculty debate, the yearly Glendy Burke-Jennie C. Nixon Debate, and two prize debates, for the George Prize and the Nixon Prize. An interest in public speaking is the only requisite for membership.

The first chapter of O. D. K. was organized at Washington and Lee in 1914. The Alpha Zeta Circle was established at Tulane in 1930. The purpose of O. D. K. is to recognize men who have maintained a high standard of efficiency in college activities and to encourage their fellow students to strive for outstanding achievements along these same lines. The five standards for which members of O. D. K. are selected are recognized as follows: scholarship, athletics, social and religious affairs, publication and speech, and musical and dramatic arts. In addition to selecting outstanding students for membership in O. D. K., each year the fraternity honors faculty and alumni in "tapping" one or two of their group outstanding in campus affairs. Those selected this year were Robert J. Farley, Dean of the Tulane College of Law; Captain Forrest U. Lake, Commanding Officer of the V-12 Unit; and Watson Chapman, graduate of the College of Engineering and treasurer of the Tulane Alumni Association.

The Owl Club was founded at Tulane in 1921. This year it had twenty-three members. It is a junior-senior interfraternity honor society whose purpose is to promote higher standards of scholarship and ethics in the School of Medicine. The organization's officers for the past year were: Keller Griffith, president; Guy C. Oswalt, vice-president; Norman Booker, secretary; and J. C. Martin, Jr., treasurer.

The Tulane Student Branch of the A. S. M. E. is one of the many engineering organizations to be found in colleges and universities throughout the country. Its purpose is to help train for and to encourage interest in engineering as a profession by studying and discussing contemporary developments in the field of mechanical engineering.

The Tulane Society of Civil Engineers was inaugurated at Tulane this year. It was founded to replace the Student Branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers whose charter was relinquished because the activities of the chapter were retarded by the war. The purposes of the organization are: to develop a professional attitude in the students, and to help them in their work by bringing them in contact with experienced men in their profession. It is composed of seniors, juniors, and sophomores in the School of Civil Engineering and carries on its work through lectures and trips. The officers for this year are: D. D. Davis, president; J. Hassinger, vice-president; Rosenbohm, secretary; W. Hoppmeyer, treasurer.

ALPHA CHI SIGMA

The Alpha Tau Chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma was organized at Tulane in the spring of 1928. The objects of the fraternity are: to bind its members with a tie of true and lasting friendship; to strive for the advancement of chemistry both as a science and as a profession; and to aid its members by every honorable means in the attainment of their ambitions as chemists throughout their mortal lives. In its efforts to further the aims of the fraternity the Alpha Tau Chapter sponsors every year two chemistry essay contests, one in the public high schools and one in the freshman chemistry class. It also has initiated a safety program in the Chemistry Department, and manages a display case in the Richardson Memorial Chemistry Building.

The organization was founded at Tulane in 1913. Its purpose is to supplement classroom work, encourage interest, promote fellowship, and provide social contacts with each other and with the faculty. Officers for the past year were: Milton J. Bienvenu, Jr., president; John W. Lawrence, vice-president; Wilford F. Calongne, treasurer; Dorothy E. As the gateway to Latin America, it is proper that New Orleans should be the home of one of the oldest and most outstanding journals of civil and comparative law in this hemisphere. The Tulane Law Review, successor to the Southern Law Quarterly, was founded in 1916 as the first law review of this state. It is published by the students of the law school with the aid and counsel of the faculty. Through the years it has gained international fame and distribution and has become one of the fundamental research sources for Louisiana lawyers and for scholars of civil and comparative law. But of equal importance has been its service as a training and proving ground for the ablest students of the Tulane Law School. Currently, the Board of Editors is faced with the double task of sustaining the quality of the Review with a very small staff. Before the war the board numbered about twenty members. During the war the membership has been as low as four. A fine tradition is being established for the future by those now on the Review. Particular credit is due the editor-in-chief, Robert McLean Jeter, Jr., who has served with exceptional diligence and distinction. The secretary of the Review, Miss Gertrude Stein, has labored with her usual unselfish and tireless devotion.

"Oyez! Oyez!" echoes up and down the halls and out the ivy-fringed windows. Thus it is that Tulane laymen are once again informed that the Moot Court is in session. Gone from the stacks are the bleary-eyed mooters. Now the hours of work, on briefs that aren't, are behind—in front, three black-robed judges. Moot Court members eight have conjured the facts of these mock cases; opposing teams of freshmen and upperclassmen alike will strive to tear them apart. Just how well they do this ultimately determines which upperclassmen shall set the stone-cutter's chisel chipping in the winner's plaque. Mentor Oppenheim aids and instructs the board members, who are chosen for their high degree of scholarship. And heading this group is Charlotte Ashley—a mere woman—the first girl chairman in the history of the board.

ALPHA DELTA PI

The Alpha Delta Pis have spent the better part of the year trying to get the five pounds of candy the engaged girls' men owe the chapter and listening to Jean McGivney rattle on about the Newman Club. The BIG formal was the Black Diamond dance. The excuse used: to honor the pledges. Pledges replied with the usual Christmas Party for those WONDERFUL active members. More serious things accomplished: quote, We're doing some sort of war work. Unquote. Ruled over by Joy Mayer with Giba Maxwell filling the vice-president's seat. On down the line of Big Shots are: Alymer White, Maisie Obier, and Dorothy Brunet. The girls of the purple violet first got together at Wesleyan Female (?) College in Georgia and drifted over to Newcomb in 1906 where they're still drifting around.

The A. E. Phis got a start in life at Bainard College in 1909. Seven years later Newcomb began putting up with them. Their flower, lily of the valley, preserves their pet color scheme, green and white. The gal with the club is none other than Jo Ann Pincus; Julianne Rose is her pinch-hitter. In typical style, the bunch needs a lot of secretaries to take down all the dope. The recorder is Sally Moss, and the letter writer is Jo Ann Stern. Jo Ellen Levy holds the purse. Got started in 1897 at Barnard College—started gossiping at Newcomb in 1898. They're still at it! Calista Rault pounds the hammer (they had to hock the gavel to help pay for the big dance they held in February). She is also editor of the "Hullabaloo." Bushy Buchanan waits for Calista to get sick so she can swing the hammer. (Innes Ellis, head of J. L., waits for Bushy.) Kathryn Gould writes pretty little invitations, while Aileen Cassegrain keeps the deep, dark secrets in a confused state of order. Ruth Fiscofer begs for money to get aforementioned gavel out of the pawn shop. Helen Marschall leads the Art School, and Marie Stouse is viceprexy of the Freshman class. The rest of the girls knit. They say they've done lots of things this year, but they can't remember what!

The B. S. O.s chief claim to fame is that they practically make up the entire population of the library. Result: high grades—Katherine Verlander manages all weighty affairs, as president, while Norris Mary Murphy keeps order in her absence—and lords it over the pledges. Marion Reese and Ann Jones hold down the two secretarial jobs and Margie Berry keeps the books balanced. They rave about their four engaged sisters, their Founders' Day Banquet in December, and the visit their national president paid them in January. The Beta Sig's dabble in campus politics, claiming Jerry Liddell, president of the Y. W. C. A., and Betty Berry, president of the Freshman class. They show their leaning toward higher education by presenting an English award to the Sophomore attaining the highest average, and toward the lighter side of life by throwing two or three gay parties a year.

CHI OMEGA SORORITY

Claim to fame of this organization is the fact that there are MORE chapters of Chi Omega in the country than there are of any other sorority. If you don't believe the above statement, ask any Chi O, and she will rattle off the number of chapters, number of alumni associations, etc. . . . it's a phobia! Established in 1895 at the University of Arkansas, Rho Chapter was founded at Newcomb in 1900. Since that date Rho Chapter has perennially "built their castles of cardinal and straw" during Rush Week and succeeded in trapping a few rushees in said castle. Builder-in-chief for the 1943-44 season is Carolyn Graham (alias Twerp). When Twerpie needs assistance, Mary Herron Mitchell helps. Evelyn King is the taker of the minutes and Julie Saunders assumes the thankless job of treasurer. Pledge captain's shoes are occupied by Mimi McConnell. When unoccupied with a round of parties and dates, the Chi Omegas may usually be found standing together in student body elections . . . it's another phobia!

DELTA ZETA SORORITY

"School for Cheerleaders," they call their organization, and rightly so. At this point the Delta Zeta's claim two of the three Newcomb cheerleaders, namely, Idamay Hayden and Betty Blain Lyle. Give them time and they'll make it unanimous! The girls are also very talented—they say. To prove that statement, the Delta Zeta's may be seen—and heard—on all campus night programs. Another of their perennial accomplishments is placing in sorority skit night! The other sororities, for lack of a chorus line, have come to expect this. Officers include: Betty Finnegan, president; Idamay Hayden, vice-president; Mimi Viosca, secretary; and Merrel Loubat, treasurer. Founded in 1902 at Miami University, there are 64 active chapters.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

The Thetas were born in 1870 at DePauw (someone says that's Brooklyn for "hand"), and they have been living here since 1914. For colors they prefer black and gold, with a pansy colored ditto. Katherine Simmons wields the club, substituted for by Barbara Mann. When Shirley Dunlap has scribbled all the bull, Barbara Stewart puts it in the mail. Mary Knight may be found guarding the strongbox. The Thetas influence campus activities through various offices held by their members; especially Nonnie Perrilliat, who does a good job of heading the Student Body.

Maybe that Standards Committee is at the bottom of all the confusion. Nobody knows exactly whose standards or what standards it is supposed to uphold, but, aside from that, we see that the Kappas are pretty much like the Pi Phis after all. On October 13, 1817, at Monmouth College the first Kappa Chapter was founded. Beta Omicron Chapter was established at Newcomb in 1891. The '43-'44 bunch is bossed by Mickey Dureau (when said boss isn't thinking of Gibson Tucker), who is backed up by Bitsy Hammett, chairman of that Standards thing. Mabel Hochendel is secretary, Polly Lane collects dues, while Louise Peterman is pledge driver. The Kappas also contribute to the war effort by having a big debate yearly as to whether or not they should have that formal.

C'est la guerre! And those Phi Mus certainly do realize it. They say they spent almost $1,000 on War Bonds last year, and are also very proud of the number of their sisters who are doing their part in the "effort" as nurses aides. In spite of the war though, their social calendar was highlighted with such events as their big formal and banquet (those V-12's do come in handy) last December, as well as numerous teas for national officers. And there were just plain "get-togethers." With a certain amount of politicing they put some of their sisters into campus offices this year—and consequently you will find on the list of Who's Who the names of Shirley Weiderecht, Patty Dillon and Adele Redditt. Ruling over the Phi Mu clan for the year are Lucinda Hill, who has the title of prexy, aided by Dottie Scott, vice-president, and Cora Levine (the belle of Tulane!), who takes the minutes at their weekly meetings, while Ella Jane Blake handles the financial situation.

Phi Sigma Sigma, which was founded at Hunter College in 1913, invaded the Newcomb campus in 1934. They are known mainly for their scholastic standing which is consistently high. Their social activities each year include a Founders Day Banquet (like every other sorority) and a Blue Room party, of which they are very proud. We guess that the reason the Pi Phis wear their arrow at an angle is so it can't be mistaken for a Kappa key. At any rate, this age-old feud seems to be the basis of most of the queer goings-on in the two groups. This charming group was started in 1867 at Monmouth College. Louisiana Alpha Chapter was founded at Newcomb College in 1891. They are quite proud of the fact that several of their sisters are pinned, engaged, or generally quite the stuff. Another doubtful honor of which they boast is the number of Pi Phi's names appearing on the roster of the "Old Maids Klub." We sometimes hear of their war work, their outstanding contribution being the foregoing of all debutante parties for the duration. Titine Clark is gavel waver of the organization. Others contributing to the conversation may be Babsy LeBlanc, vice-president; Eleanor Gates, secretary; and Jane Hackett Munson, who holds up the financial end.

T., and by Robin Ahrens who handles the Newcomb side of the "Hullabaloo" and also holds a position in Who's Who. Individual fraternities are bad enough, but when they all get together into a representative council, there is no end of trouble. Each frat sends one or two of its biggest bull-shooters to uphold (?) its own reputation when the fight starts. Aubrey Moore, as chairman of the melting pot, tries to hold everybody in line. When he is exhausted Secretary Rufus Harris assists. Of course, there are many minor difficulties—Theo Harvey never attends a meeting; Bill Owen can't understand why everyone doesn't see it his way; Warren Garfunkel argues that after all is said and done, Commerce is much the best school; and Jimmy Bryan makes sure everyone knows how it is done in Beta. But still Pan-Hellenic manages to maintain a united front.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Founded in 1865, Alpha Tau Omega increased its chapter number by one when Tulane's chapter opened for business in 1887. The so-called Worthy Master calls himself Henry Dauterive. His special assistant, who no doubt goes by the name of Unworthy Master, is Bob Woolley. Keeping the exchequer, whatever that might be, is assigned to Steve Ellis, but we can't help it. The Worthy Annals are kept by the Worthy Keeper of the Annals, Worthy Ed King. And so we reluctantly bid farewell to tropical Alpha Tau Omega, to its brilliant shades of Sky Blue and Old Gold, and to the floral magnificence of its White Tea Rose. (Those boys just love adjectives, don't they?)

B E T A T H E T A P I

Sixty-nine years after the establishment of Beta Theta Pi at Miami University, the Beta Xi chapter came forth in a haze of baby pink and blue on the Tulane campus. This was in the year 1908. Since then the boys have sported their roses, in proper dignity (?), from classroom to dance hall; that is, until the Navy outlawed boutonnieres. Scutter Murphy commands the Hungry Greeks, and is relieved by Stone Stickney in seeing that nothing intoxicating is drunk in the room, located now at 7070 Zimple Street. Of course, there are always sidewalks; but the alumni never seem to notice. Buddy Werlein takes notes and John McLellan sees to it that the boys contribute monthly. That man, again, Stone Stickney, leads the pledges on the road of right. The Betas' claim to fame is their almost perennial winning of the Pan-Hellenic Cup which, no doubt, is authoritative enough. When last seen, every member of Beta Xi was working on the "Jamb." Blame them for this!

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON

Born at Yale University in 1844, the old Deke Lion grew restless in his limited confines and rambled south to leave its mark on the Tulane campus in 1899. (The campus never quite recovered.) At present there are 47 active chapters roaming around loose somewhere. The pack's colors are red, azure, and gold; every loyal brother sports a —pansy. All the brethren cry "Ugh" to Theo Harvey, the Great White Father, at the weekly pow-wows. When Theo is attending to more urgent business, usually the R. O. T. C. battalion which he commands or the A. and S. student body of which he is the prexy, Archie Bland takes over the chief's job. Ken Gilly takes notes at the meetings and helps brother Ed collect what money the fellows can spare from their French Quarter budget. The healthy alumni chapter works over the freshies for pledges. Their main pastimes seem to include drinking all of Rod's beer before he can ice it (led by Brother Pritchard) and keeping all the people who live between Canal Street and Baton Rouge awake all night with their peppy parties.

NU SIGMA NU

Founded in 1882 at the University of Michigan, Beta Iota Chapter of Tulane has admirably continued to carry on the old Nu Sigma Nu tradition of feuding with Phi Chi. This pastime seems to be their one interest during formal meetings and otherwise. Said meetings are also the scene of much important business, the topic of conversation ranging from the last party given to the next one scheduled. Martin Harthcock waves the gavel in this organization, and reminds Charles Prosser, secretary, to send out notices of monthly meetings. Leonard Knapp takes over when the president is indisposed and Karr Hinton, alias "Hitler," sees to it that dues are paid and that no one but his personal friends raid the ice box. The Nu Sigs' chief claims to fame are their fancy cabaret parties, with singing in the "green room" and preaching by Deacon Palfrey, the half-painted house that looks much better now, according to the members, than it did unpainted, the Laurens twins' Model A convertible and their four (or more) married members. The mansion at 5018 St. Charles Ave. is the scene of many informal gatherings, the likes of which can never be equaled by the Phi Chi's.

PHI CHI

Known as the politicians of Tulane Med. School, the Phi Chis have crashed forth this year with a galaxy of class offices. This landslide was, of course, premeditated; in fact, for years now, the Phi Chis have added prodigiously to their chapter roll, with the hope of some day getting ahead. The only drawback to their system of rushing and bidding, however, is that it is rather hard remembering who is, and who is not a "good brother." Several ingenious members have gravely considered giving a post rush-week party every year for the purpose of introducing the pledges to the actives. Gordon Nix is president of this convention, and Wyman Sloan relieves him on occasions. George Prather takes minutes, and Sparky Wyatt collects large enough fees each month from all members to start a new branch of the First National Bank. Their meetings are also concerned with "discussions" of the Nu Sigs, and plans for future parties—open only to Phi Chis. RUMOR has it that their parties are "mighty fine." Outstanding members include Henry Yonge, president of the sophomore class; Keller Griffith, president of the Med. School student body; and Broox Garrett, president of the senior class. Phi Chi was founded at the University of Vermont in 1889. Omicron Chapter was established at Tulane in 1903.

Salute . . .

TO TULANE AT WAR

You're in there pitching now—with new rules and regulations, tailor-trimmed courses of study, dormitories converted into barracks, the cafeteria, a mess hall, and over 1,200 boys in uniform—all adding up to Tulane at war.

Being in the middle of things you can feel something of the patriotism that spurs on the serious work, the untiring effort. The glamour of a uniform has turned into down-to-earth responsibility. This is your war now—not only your country's.

Your pay check isn't a fortune we know, but it's easy to save some in War Bonds or Stamps every month—especially when you know that the Bonds you buy—buy the bombs you'll need in battle.

And to those of you who don't wear Navy blue or Army khaki—War Bonds and Stamps can be your way of contributing to Tulane's vital part in our fight for freedom. They're for sale on the campus—make it a habit to stop at the booth regularly. Remember—the boys in blue back you. You back them with Bonds.
